

2016-2017 Altria Graduate Fellowship Application

Altria Client Services supports graduate education in the College of Agriculture by providing funding for graduate fellowships in tobacco-related fields of study. Fellowships may be requested to cover a full or partial stipend, tuition, or both. For the 2016-2017 academic year, the maximum Altria Fellowship stipend is $18,000 ($1500/mo.) and may be supplemented by the department from other sources. Fellows will also receive graduate student health insurance. Please note that funding levels in subsequent years could change.
